Turning Point Scotland Renfrewshire

designed and produced by Michael Dancer / 0141 424 0601

Background

At Turning Point Scotland Renfrewshire we support people with a learning disability who have moved from their family home or from other community resources as well as individuals from the long stay hospital closure programmes.

Born from the Renfrewshire Learning Disability Service which was established in 2001, Weavers Mill began supporting people in Renfrewshire in 2006 and in October 2009 won a major new contract to provide further services in the Johnstone area.

Housing is provided either by Renfrewshire Council or by locally based housing associations with each individual having their own secure housing tenure. Turning Point Scotland has also purchased suitable properties and enlists the services of a housing association to take on the landlord responsibilities.

Turning Point Scotland Renfrewshire service is registered with the Care Inspectorate as both housing support and care at home. People we support live throughout Renfrewshire, specifically Paisley, Kilbarchan, Elderslie, Johnstone, Linwood and Bridge of Weir.

What we do

Our aim is to provide a high quality service which:

- We provide support for people with learning/ physical disabilities who have their own occupancy or tenancy agreement in their own or shared house.
- Each person has a key worker who is responsible for coordinating their support.
- Each person has their own individualised care package tailored to fulfil their needs and aspirations.
- We use person centred planning and individual support plans which detail peoples' needs, desires and goals.
- We encourage and support people to utilise local facilities such as college, leisure and social activities.
- Turning Point Scotland is committed to training staff for the job they are employed to do. Nearly 75% of all support workers are qualified to SVQ3 level.
- We work in partnership with external agencies including Social Work and community healthcare teams to ensure people's needs are fully met.
